THE WHITE CLIFFS HOTEL

The White Cliffs Hotel hopes to be a unique experience offering a new approach to hotel accommodation in rural & village centre locations. The hotel captures the essence of life in coastal England with a contemporary atmosphere and a refreshingly independent way of thinking - an antidote to faceless global brands so prevalent today.

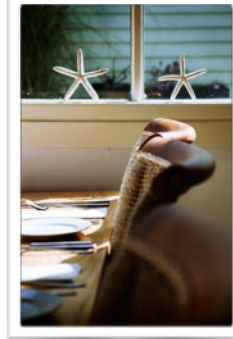

The hotel itself is set in the heart of the picturesque village of St. Margaret's-at-Cliffe under a mile from the beautiful beach at St. Margaret's Bay and just ten minutes drive from the port and Cruise Terminal at Dover, yet still ranks as one of White Cliffs Country's best-kept secrets. It's centred around an archetypal Kentish weather-boarded inn that has been sympathetically restored to a 'barefoot' venue. You can even take a Spa Break here and benefit from the haven of peace and tranquility in the grounds of our sister hotel's fabulous Spa a two minute drive or short stroll away...

THE BAY RESTAURANT

The Bay Restaurant, the beating heart of the hotel, is headed up by Gavin Oakley, the creative mastermind behind nearby award-winning Wallett's Court Country House Hotel. He brings his own brand of imagination and flair that has seen his team win recognition with entries in The Good Food Guide, a 2 rosette award in The AA Best Restaurant Guide and many other plaudits from national and international guides and in the press.

Eat in the The Bay Restaurant or on the terrace at breakfast, take lunch in the lounge by the fire in winter or in the "beach garden" in summer and dine in the Bay Restaurant in the evening. We go a long way to stay close to home when sourcing the finest Kentish produce to use in our kitchen. From locally reared black pigs to fruit and vegetables from our own allotment. By use of sustainable, local & seasonal produce we adhere to our values of community and partnership yet we do enjoy the freedom to explore further & discover excellence from beyond the locality. So don't be surprised to see hand-dived scallops from Shetland or sustainably line caught Atlantic Halibut on the menu.

FIRST LIGHT COAST & COUNTRY

First Light Coast & Country is an isolated 'island' of countryside and coastline in the Kent Downs Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty which surrounds the lovely seaside village of St. Margaret's-at-Cliffe with its secluded cove at St. Margaret's Bay. First Light coast & country is the perfect year-round destination, there's no shortage of things to do whenever you come.

In the summer, you can enjoy the excellent beach at St. Margaret's Bay, hit the countryside trails with your bike or soak up the sun on a leisurely amble along the cliff tops, before returning to The White Cliffs Hotel for 'sundowners' in the sun-trap 'beach garden'. Come winter, the weather brings fantastic conditions for a bracing walk on the cliffs, breathing in the fresh sea air and staring out at the view of France only 20 miles away across the English Channel. The area is also rich in history, heritage and culture. With the castles of Dover, Deal and Walmer within 4 miles of the hotel there is certainly no shortage of things to do during your stay.
